The three members met and established themselves as the Joint Intelligence Study Publishing Board, the organization of which was approved by General Strong, Admiral Train and General Donovan.

Initial steps were taken for the procurement of space. Major Kountz will make a first attempt to procure space in the Joint Chiefs of Staff Building which the Committee as a whole makes its first choice. If space is unavailable there, steps will be taken to procure space in the Federal Reserve Building and next in the New War Department Building.

Initial steps were taken to draw up a directive for the JISPB. Major Kountz presented a working outline which each of the three members will add to the combination at a future meeting.

The Board informally agreed upon the priority list of studies which was presented from the OPD through Major Kountz. Agreement was based upon the fact that the list was drawn up through the coordination of War Department demands with those of the Future Plans Section in the Navy Department and the Joint War Plans Committee.
